  Main Street would like to do a board check in on September 19, we will request a time between 11:00 a.m. and 2:15 p.m.

- Director’s Report

  M. Biladeau expressed how grateful she is for the collaboration of all of these years and feels the difference is tangible in the streets of downtown. She is proud that the organization and budget have grown exponentially under her leadership and the board’s guidance.

  309 people at Forks and Corks and all 38 volunteers were great. The donut wall from Strange Matter was a huge success with Lexus of Lansing. Approximately $8,500.00 was raised.

  Retrofit of the old newspaper kiosks are still moving forward. ACD/5G antennae are coming. However, Corbin Design through an analysis has determined that it is more cost effective to remove the old newspaper kiosks and replace them with new. The design is complete. We are working with ACD to get 4/12 kiosks completed this summer. Design costs are also under discussion.

  The wallscape, public art piece, will be installed on the elevator shaft as soon as the weather is more cooperative. The project team has been pulled back together to make sure everything is all track for spring install.

  The new Downtown Guidebooks have been completed and will be back from the printer on Monday, April 15. Distribution will begin.

- Committee Reports:

  Economic Vitality: C. Zarkovich indicated that the team is getting ready to distribute the annual business owner survey. They are focusing now on the former Hallmark property and the former Whipped property for some storefront signage. The last Huddle was very well attended. The next one will be at Jalapeno’s on May 7 from 4-5 p.m.
Design: J. Tischler deferred to M. Biladeau. Wayfinding, Wallscape, a pocket park and summertime waking and lunch tours are what the committee is working on. The board and committee is still waiting on a response from the Mayor’s office in regards to whether or not downtown can be included in the city façade program. All work plans are done.

Public Spaces: M. Biladeau gave the update-the meeting is later today. All things spring including hanging baskets, planter boxes, urns along the Rivertrail, mulch, etc, are on the agenda.

Organization: JV Anderton gave the update. There is a strategy to go through new work plan/development training with Michigan Main Street.
