UPDATE - Inmate Death Investigation

-Lansing Detention Facility-

Today, the Attorney General's Office advised that they declined criminal charges on the Lansing police and detention officers involved in the Lansing Detention facility death of Anthony Hulon on April 4, 2020.

"This was an unfortunate incident, Lansing Police Department fully cooperated with Michigan State Police's independent investigation and a detailed criminal review by the Michigan Attorney General's Office. The next step is an internal review to examine the officers' actions, and the department's procedures, equipment, and training systems regarding this incident," stated Chief Daryl Green.

"The Michigan Attorney General's office has completed an independent and thorough investigation into this tragic situation. I appreciate the due diligence by Attorney General Dana Nessel and her staff. Now that they have determined there will be no criminal charges, the LPD will conduct an internal review into this incident. LPD will provide further updates when that review is complete," stated Mayor Andy Schor.

This incident is currently involved in civil litigation and the City has no further comment. Please refer to statements provided above.
